"Washington's Funeral---A 2-Generation Life Span

by Laurie Van Dyke.

Marion--The life spans of Mary English and her father--just 2 generations--covers the history of this country from the time of the Revolution to the present.

There is a circumstance that is no doubt unique in the nation.

Mary English, now 92 and living in a Cedar Rapids nursing home, was born when her father, Richard Thomas, was 86.

Born in 1780. That means he was born in 1780, just a few years after the Declaration of Independence.

Richard Thomas' tombstone in Marion cemetery shows he died June 8, 1892, at the age of 112 years.

In an interview for the Gazette several years ago, Mrs. English recalled that her husband was "over 110" when he died and that some said he was 117. Lives of the 2 generations would thus span nearly 180 years.

Washington's Funeral. Her father, for whom Thomas park is named, was present at funeral services for George Washington, our first President.

As a teamster in the city of Washington, he rode to the services with the undertaker, Mrs. English has recalled his telling.

Mrs. English lived alone at the old family home at 1024 18th St., until she was hospitalized recently. For the last few weeks she has been in the nursing home.

Mrs. English's husband died a number of years ago. They had 2 sons both of whom died when quite young.

An obituary in the Marion "Pilot" at the time of her father's death, said Richard Thomas died suddenly and not from any illness.

First Mill. He and Mrs. English's mother were married in 1865, according to the report.

Mr. Thomas built the first mill in Linn County in 1841. He acquired title from the U. S. Government to the land now Thomas park. He gave the land to the city for a nominal sum.

Born in Maryland, Mr. Thomas came to the Iowa Territory in 1837 and to Marion in 1840. His long life was legendary in Linn County, it was reported at the time of death. "

CEDAR RAPIDS GAZETTE, OCTOBER 30, 1960

Historical Iowa 'Judge Lynch' Presided at This Trial in Eastern Iowa--- by Walt Carstens.

Horse thievery, the most common form of lawlessness in pioneer Eastern Iowa, became so prevalent during the 1850s that the settlers in an attempt to curb further losses, organized vigilance committees.

Besides being protective these associations were intended to aid in law enforcement and to provide hearings tempered with justice. However, much of the time Judge Lynch presided at the so-called hearings.

Case of 1857. Prominent among such lynchings was the hanging of Hiram Roberts that occurred in 1857 in the Walnut Grove area southwest of Olin. The following details are excerpts from a history of Jones county printed in 1910: "It was in the early part of the month of December, 1857, that Hiram Roberts, a reputed thief, counter feiter and desperado fell into the hands of the vigilance committee, about 400 strong, near Red Oak Grove in Cedar county. Roberts was brought into Walnut Fork, now Olin in Jones county, tried by the committee, found guilty and forced to pay the penalty without the formality of a judge and jury of his peers.

"A company of people had gathered at George Saum's house to consider what was best to be done. The Tipton Vigilance Committee and the Walnut Grove Vigilance committee had matters in charge, though the Tipton committee took the lead in the execution.

"While one of the vigilantes had gathered the company back of the barn and in stentorian tones was declaring what he thought was best to be done to rid the country of these desperadoes, the Tipton committee smuggled Roberts out of the house and in a few moments Hiram Roberts was looking up a straight rope in the barn. He was soon taken down and borne back into the timber and strung up to a stout limb."

Fuss on Burial. Roberts' body was cut down by a brother the next morning and brought to Olin for burial; however, several members of the cemetery association raised objections until one of the solicitors who had received $5 from Roberts to aid in establishing the cemetery, raised this point: "If Roberts' money was good enough to aid the cemetery, the cemetery is none too good as a resting place for the body."

The argument prevailed, and today Hiram Roberts' body lies on a southwestern slope overlooking the scene where he lived the last few hours of his life."

(This article is presented with a picture of a "Simple stone, more than 100 years old, marking the grave." "Hiram Roberts, aged 45 years.")

CEDAR RAPIDS GAZETTE, SUNDAY, JULY 28, 1957

"Houghton Family has had Norway Farm for Century
by Rex Conn.

Norway--That is probably one of the shortest abstracts of title for a piece of Iowa real estate belong to 160 acres of the Houghton farm 2½ miles southeast of Norway.

There has never been a mortgage on the place and the title still resides in the unsettled estate of the widow of John F. Houghton, who entered the land from the Government in 1855 and a year or two thereafter. The original warrants, signed by President Franklin Pierce still are in possession of the family.

Another 40 acres of the 240 acre piece was sold off once and then repurchased, according to 84-year-old William A. Houghton....of Cedar Rapids, a son of the original settler.

John F. Houghton, came to Florence township, Benton County in 1854, herding a drove of cattle from Illinois for Ben Darnell, an early settler. The Darnell farm was a mile south of where Norway was located when the railroad went through during the Civil War, Wm. Houghton said.

Wedding Nearly Delayed. That same year Mary Bower, who had emigrated from England to Canada in 1852, came to Iowa to work for the Darnell family. John Houghton and Mary Bower were married March 29, 1857.....

With true frontier spirit, the two borrowed tools from a family named Kew who lived on the north side of the creek and hewed a dug-out canoe from a giant basswood log in which they paddled across the flooded lowlands in time for the weddings.

House built in 1857. John Houghton had built a house for his bride, said to be the first frame house between Cedar Rapids and Marengo. Walnut was cheap and easy to work, so the young pioneer made extensive use of that wood in his house.

The 100 year old house still standing on the farm looks small today, but it was big compared with the log cabins of the early settlers. It had a good sized living room, a tiny pantry, a bed-room so small the bed had to be cut down to get it in, and an unfinished attic. The house impressed one of the Kewa boys from across Prairie creek. "In a house as big as this, Mary, I don't see anything to keep you and John from getting lost in it" he declared.

On Westward Trail. The road past the Houghton farm, now a quiet country road was a main trail from Cedar Rapids and Iowa City westward in the 1850s. Some trains of oxdrawn wagons were a mile long, according to Houghton family tradition.

John Houghton supplemented his farming income by breaking prairie for his neighbors with a big breaking plow drawn by eight or ten oxen, according to William.

The pioneer died in 1904 at the age of 71. His wife lived until 1920, when she died at the age of 84. Title to the farm still is held by the Mary Houghton estate.

The pioneer and his wife raised two sons and two daughters. Wm. was graduated from Norway high school in 1892, and entered Iowa State College at Ames, in the class of 1897.....

Farm rented since 1912. He operated the home farm until 1912, when he rented the place and moved to Cedar Rapids to live with his sisters, Hannah and Jane, teachers in the city schools. In 1918 they built the house on 33rd St. where William has lived since the death of Jane in 1946; Hannah died in 1940.

The other son John went to Oklahoma many years ago, and later moved to Texas, where his two sons and their families still live.

The farm has been rented since 1912. The now is operated by Erwin Oftedahl, who lives on his father's farm nearby, and the house is occupied by another family.

Until recent years Wm. Houghton drove frequently to the farm to help keep the fences and buildings in repair and to do other chores about the place. ....He is happy and grateful when a friend occasionally takes him out to look over the place that his family has owned for well over a century."

This Article is presented with a picture of the "Pioneer Farmhouse-- Wm. A. Houghton, 84 of Cedar Rapids, stands before the house that his father, John F. Houghton built for his bride in 1857.....

And a picture of the "Pioneers--John F. Houghton and Mary Bower were married in 1857 and set up housekeeping in the new house John had built on land he had purchased in 1855 southeast of where Norway now is located. Mr. Houghton a native of Pennsylvania, came to Iowa from Illinois, Mrs. Houghton was born in England and came to Iowa by way of Canada."

From Cedar Rapids, Iowa Gazette, from various State Correspondants. The Cedar Rapids Gazettes have been microfilmed for the records, and can be found in various Libraries.

"Marion---100 years ago. Quiet was broken only by verbal Blasts By Larry Tanner. Marion was a relatively quiet place as the troubled year of 1861 began.

Then county seat of Linn county, it had the quietness broken, figuratively speaking, occasionally by verbal blasts from 2 rival newspapers, the Marion Democrat, edited by 34 year old Dr. Bardwell, and the Marion Register, edited by 41 year old outspoken Robert Holmes.

Marion Historian, Marvin Oxley, in the first of three volumes on the history of Marion, describes the attitude of the 2 men as portrayed through their respective newspapers.

Jan. 12, 1861, Dr. Bardwell wrote:

If Mr. Lincoln attempts a coercive policy, without giving the south some assurance that their constitutional rights will be respected, he will not only be opposed by Mr. Douglass (Sen. Stephan A. Douglass of Illinois), but by a united Democracy in the North."

Holmes replied rather bitterly:

"Summary Justice. We have sometimes wished for the sake of having summary justice administered to such traitors as the writer of the above, that a certain Southern custom might be inaugurated among us for awhile. With a hampen cravat and elevated to the nearest tree, inexorable justice would look on and, while deprecating the lawlessness of the act, it would say 'it serves him right'."

Holmes went on to quote Sen. Douglass as saying that President Lincoln should treat all attempts to break up the Union as "Old Hickory" handled the "Nullifiers" in 1832. The editor told of growing war sentiment in Marion and Mt. Vernon.

Largest Audience. Hosea W. Gray, about 45, a native of Pennsylvania, took action after war had been declared. He organized the "Marion Light Guards" on April 27. The group was sworn in in early May with Gray as its captain.

The company left for war on July 13, and the Rev. Samuel Pancoast preached a sermon before the largest audience ever assembled in Marion, in front of David Carskaddon's building.

Most of the enlistments during the Civil War were just reaching manhood. However, several Marion business men joined the Union army to help put down the "rebellion". They were Carskaddon, F. S. Winslow, Manson D. Crosby and Ed Evershed.

Marion, 100 years later doesn't face the same type of problem it did in 1861. The political issues are world-wide. Newspapers are not embroiled in bitter feuds.

The city is mainly concerned with the problems resulting from its phenomenal growth of the preceding decade.

February 26, 1961. "

Cedar Rapids Gazette December 27, 1957

George Washington Ellis of Seattle, 80-year-old descendent of the Pioneer Robert Ellis family, which made the land for Ellis park available to Cedar Rapids is visiting in the city.

Registered at the Roosevelt hotel, Mr. Ellis expects to spend about ten days here before going briefly to Chicago and then west to spend the winter in Phoenix and San Francisco.

Ellis was graduated from Washington High School in 1896, left Cedar Rapids 1900 and went to sea for the Pacific Mail and Alaska Steamship Lines. He was retired at the age of 50 years and has since made his home in Seattle, traveling--sometime to the far corners of the globe--for six or seven months of each year.

October 29, 1961 Picture of Three Generations of the Mather family father under an ancient elm on the lawn of the farmhouse a mile east of Springdale in which all 3 couples began their married life. They are Mr. and Mrs. Anders Mather, Sr., center, Mr. and Mrs. Anders Mather, jr., at right, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mather at left, who were married in June and have established their home in the "honeymoon house". Kenneth, the fifth generation of his family on the farm, is in partnership with his grandfather. His wife is completing her senior year at the State university. By Rex Conn. Springdale-- When Kenneth Mather went into partnership with his grandfather Anders Mather, Sr., last spring, he became the fifth generation to till the 110-year-old Mather family farm a mile east of Springdale.

And when Kenneth and Janice Rex of West Branch were married last June, they set up housekeeping in the big white house on the "West 80" where Kenneth's parents and grandparents had started out as newly-weds.

The story of the Mather farm starts in 1850, when Samuel Mather, a sturdy Quaker farmer, set out from Alliance, Ohio to seek a new location in the new state of Iowa.

He found what he wanted in southern Cedar County--a quarter-section of rich rolling prairie, close to timber for fuel and building material, and, most important of all, a fine never-failing spring.

.....Samuel Mather rode his horse back to Ohio and the following year brought his family and good many of their possessions to Iowa in a wagon train.....The pioneer was succeeded on the place by his son Samuel, whose wife was a Norwegian girl who had come to Illinois with her family. Samuel met her when she visited relatives near Norway, Iowa, where there were a number of Quaker families. Their son Anders, was graduated from State University of Iowa in 1914 and went back to the home farm. When he and Miss Alleda Zwickkey were married in 1915, the elder Mather built a house for them on an 80-acre farm a half mile west of the home place.

In 1939 Mr. and Mrs. Anders Mather, Sr., moved to the home place and Anders, Jr., and his bride the former Helen Hinkhouse, set up in the house on the 80.

And now Jan and Ken Mather are making their home in the "honeymoon house".....

The Mathers' other son is Dr. Eugene Mather, a professor at the University of Minnesota. Their daughter Mrs. Helen Eye is a teacher in the Cedar Rapids Schools."

April 15, 1962 "First Graded School -- The Union, or graded school was built in 1854 after bids were left in December 1853. This two-story brick structure, replaced in 1892, was one of the first graded schools in the State. MARION HAD ONE OF FIRST GRADED SCHOOLS IN STATE. By Mr. Larry Tanner.

Marion history shows this city to be one of the pioneers in the graded school systems set up in Iowa in the 1850s.

Historian Marvin Oxley says graded schools in Marion were being used at least as early as those in Muscatine and Tipton.

First graded school in Marion was known as the Union School, a four-room brick structure of two stories. It was located on the north lots of Block 41, Oxley's "History of Marion" reports.

Bids were taken for the building Dec. 31, 1853, the "Marion Register" says. The building, 30x 60 ft. in size was financed through sale of schools lands.

Oxley says the school was put into use in 1855, a year before the graded schools were mentioned in report of the State superintendent. Marion fortunate --in having a "mental Genius" as Oxley calls him, in Redman D. Stephens a graduate of Alfred university and the Albany law school. Stephens offered to establish the curriculum, and along with Robert Holmes set about to try to select a teaching staff.

...Why November 1855 over 200 students were being taught by Stephens"

....The building was replaced by the Prescott building in 1892, the Prescott school was remodeled into an apartment building in 1940s, it is owned by Mrs. Olive Leffingwell.

"Still imposing--The old Singmaster mansion near Keota is still an imposing sight, although closer inspection shows signs of decay. The 3 story stucco structure in 1919 by J. Omer Singmaster. Its exterior was fashioned after the French castles he had seen on one of his 56 trips to France. The mansion had 11 rooms, including 6 bedrooms, 3 bath rooms. The entire third floor was a ballroom. The house has been empty for a number of years."

Lagos, after his death, a world champion Percheron stallion owned by the late J. Omer Singmaster of Keota, was buried in the grounds of the Singmaster mansion.

From this grandhouse the transaction of business were handled, and as the family and house prospered, so died the business. The business was actually begun far before the house was built or even thought of.

Samuel Singmaster was the instigator of the Percheron horse importation by their family. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1807, of German ancestry. Until 1843 he operated a fairly successful tannery business in his home state. Then, after a fire destroyed his business he and his wife moved into the Dutch Creek and Skunk River Valley region near Keota, Iowa,... the cattle business grew and in 1875 Samuel's son William, persuaded his father to start importing horses.....

William, a bachelor, was most keenly interested in horses and prevailed upon his father to finance an importation in 1875. The horses were selected by "William Singmaster and sons" with these 4 horses Samuel Singmaster formed a corporation with his sons.....with his death, the sons disbanded, leaving Charles and Thomas in charge of the business.

Charles merged with his sons, J. Omer and Charles, Jr., and continued tradition of his father. Charles' death, as his father's did, dissolved the partnership and forced his 2 sons to each begin a business for themselves.....J. O. build "Maple Villa"..... J. Omer married Edna Varcheval.....parties were gay, frequent and expensive, as the Singmasters prospered so greatly that money seemed to roll in.....The beautiful horses arrived in palace like stock cars, each in a separate stall and each with a trainer bought from England or Scotland.... The Singmasters lost their fortune during the depression that followed World War I., Mrs. Singmaster died shortly after. Even if the word 'ruin' could be printed on the house, the evidence would be no plainer. It is forgotten and deserted. No one cares. A legend is dead -- the legend of the Singmasters' fortune."

proposal is to describe the design and construction of a new X-ray source for the National Institute of Standards and Technology. The source will be used for the calibration of X-ray spectrometers and for the measurement of X-ray fluxes.

The source will consist of a cathode ray tube operated at 15 kV and 10 mA. The cathode will be coated with a thin layer of tungsten. The anode will be made of copper and will be cooled by water.

The source will be mounted on a base which will allow it to be moved vertically and horizontally.
The base will also contain a power supply and a control panel.

On Jan. 2, 1856 he wrote "Drove 2 hogs for self and 1 for Palmer and 1 for father to Jacob Hart at Dedar Rapids. They are to be killed and weighed next Monday. We are to have 5 cents a pound. Received on them $30."...."Went to McArthur's bought of him a steer at 4½ cents a pound dressed to be delivered next Thursday or Friday. Paid on the same $5.".....

In February Knickerbocker was called for jury duty at Marion, where he sat on 2 trials, one a collection suit for merchandise and freight and the other the trial of a man accused of assaulting another with a stick of stovewood. Meals at the hotel cost 25 cents, he recorded. Perhaps as a result of this contact, the pioneer reports paying "horse thief detecting association initiation 50 cents.".....

Charles' father E. H. Knickerbocker settled on farm about 3 miles east of Fairfax and later bought the farm in the town which Mr. & Mrs. Knickerbocker recently sold. Always interested in horses, he went to Europe in 1907, and selected a group of Percheron and Belgian stallions. ....He also bought horses from his neighbors, the Lefebures, from the Holberts at Greeley, and from Grant Good, the founder of the famous Farcuer line of Belgians at Ogden.

Charles was born near Fairfax April 24, 1883.... E. H. served in the state Legislature from 1917 to 1921, Charles in the 52nd Gneral Assembly in 1947.....

When Mr. & Mrs. Knickerbocker leave this week for their newhome in Florida they will end 107 years during which the Knickerbocker family has filled an important place in Linn County.

Picture of Charles J. Knickerbocker, 73, of Fairfax, sits in an antique chair beside a marble top table as he displays the saddlebags and medicine bottles which he grandfather W. D. On table are family records and old history books, including his grandfather's diary and daybook for the 3 years after the family came to Iowa. At rear are painting of a couple of the famous stallions owned by the Knickerbockers 50 years ago, when the farm at Fairfax was a nationally - known center for Percheron and Belgian stallions. The Butterworth Home, (picture) originally known as the Butterworth Inn, from 1836 to 1850 was the home of Ansell Briggs, the first Governor of Iowa, Briggs who carried mail along the old military road to Dubuque from 1836 to 1846 headquartered there; however during his governorship 1846-1850 the inn served as a second "white house" or Summer home. Located 1/2 mile north of Andrew in Jackson County, the original building 30x40 foot stone structure was erected in 1852. An addition was added few years later. ....during pioneer days the inn was a stagecoach stop on the Dubuque-Davenport route. At present the N.Charles Butterworth family, the 4th generation of the ~~Nathaniel~~ Nathaniel Butterworth founders, occupies the residence and operates the 110 acre farm, one time a part of 440 acres estate.

"First Linn Old Settlers Reunion was surprise party for Central City couple-- by Phyllis Baxter, Jan. 14, 1962

"The first Linn County Old Settlers reunion back in 1889 was planned as a surprise party for Mr. & Mrs. Ormus Clark.....350 families were invited, and 400 persons turned out.

The Clark residence, now located on a farm owned by Mrs. & Mrs. Emmel J. Iehl, still stands. A 2 story brick structure, it can be seen from highway 13 southwest of Central City.....

At noon 60 feet of tables were set on the lawn and fairly groaned with many good things that friends brought in their baskets....

After dinner speeches were made by several old pioneers. I. P. Bowdish presented Mr. & Mrs. Clark a beautiful parlor set of 6 pieces.

First Settler? Among the guests that day was Edward M. Crow who claimed to be the first settler in Linn County, coming in 1837. Many believed that he was, but several others claimed the same honor. At the time he lived in Buffalo township and received his mail at Central City.....

It was on this day that it was decided to organize "An Old Settlers Society" and J. C. Davis of Marion was appointed to plan for the next year.....

Brewer-Wick History of Linn County, 1911, names the officers for the first year as 1891 with Charles Weare of Cedar Rapids as president, J. C. Davis of Marion as secretary and A. J. McKean of Marion as treasurer.

If a man from Central City had been named instead of one from Marion, it is very likely that those reunions would still be at Central City, the reunions are now held in Marion.

The Clark name has long been connected with Central City, which was first called "Clark's Ford" in honor of Joseph Clark. In later years Ormus Clark gave land where the first Illinois Central depot was built, east of the present depot and he also gave his share of land for the road bed through Central City. The cemetery was renamed for him when he became owner of the surrounding land. It was first known as McLeod's cemetery.

The Clark brick house is the location where the first permanent Central City settler Joseph Clark and family set foot.

Ormus Clark has been called the first settler here by some historians and various dates given on his arrival, but the following facts have been gathered from Brewer-Wick and 1878 histories as well as old newspaper clippings.

John Jenkins was probably the first settler here, coming on foot from Michigan and staking out a claim. One story says his brother-in-law Seymour Clark, came with him but this cannot be stated as a fact. In 1839 Joseph Clark and wife Abigail, and children, Seymour, Ormus, Evoline, Sarepta, Warren F., and Homer L., arrived from Michigan. They had sold their farm to come to Iowa --Aug. 28, 1839, in a prairie schooner.

They anchored on a little hill west of the depot where the old depot was built (this was nearly a block east of the depot location today). Joseph Clark took over the land claim that his son-in-law John Jenkins had staked out. The nearest neighbor was 15 miles away.

A few days after the Clark family arrived, about 100 Indians came around what is known as Bunker Hill in single file and headed for the Wapsipinicon river. The folks were frightened, thinking they looked war-like, but the next day they returned and stopped to talk.

Jr. Clark became a very good friend of the Indians and learned their language.

The first deed for land in Maine township was to Joseph Clark in 1843. He hauled a load of hogs to Dubuque with a team of oxen and sold them for enough to buy 40 acres of land. The family worked hard saving everything they could and buying only the necessities. ...son Ormus Clark hauled rail timber and lived on cake made of cornmeal and salt the first winter. He said it was warm for breakfast, frozen for dinner and warm for supper. Corn was from Rome - (now Olin) a distance of 40 miles and the trip took 3 or 4 days. Near the house was a small lake, the home of innumerable water fowl and game was abundant. The evidence of where this lake was located can be seen south of the Iehl home.

Joseph Clark was a veteran of the War of 1812, died Jan. 24, 1874, age 88, buried in what was then called McLeod cemetery and now is known as Mt. Clark.

Ormus Clark took over farm and became owner of additional land which covered southwest part of town to Fourth St, while a Cascade Land Concern owned that east of Fourth Street. Richard Babber and W. P. Crawley owned the land to the north.

Mrs. Ormus Clark known as "Aunt Sabra" was born Sabra Crosby, dau. of Manson & Sabra Crosby in Plymouth, Maine on Feb. 24, 1821, came to Iowa with her family in 1846. She married first Ebenezer Jordan, son of Chandler Jordan who died 1858. They had children named Manson, Clara, Crosby, Addie and Sumner.

On Dec. 23, 1859 she married Ormus Clark, and they had 2 children: Edith and Perley. Mr. Clark was born in Wayne County, Ind., Oct. 1, 1822, lived with his family there in state, in New York and Michigan before coming to Iowa.

They built the large brick house which stands today, after they became prosperous. Stories were told how the bricks were hauled from Dubuque county. The date is not definitely known, however it was before 1889.

"Expanding City taking in Marion Landmark" July 22, 1962: by Larry Tanner--One of Marion's landmark farms is succumbing slowly to the rapid expansion of a fast growing city.....

The farm owned by Arthur E. and Alfred Granger is being brought into Marion piece by piece....by Thomas E. McGowan Real Estate firm. As this pioneer farm is developed a few acres at a time, so it was put together the same way, back in the 1850s. Samuel T. Granger grandfather of the Granger brothers who live in Marion, bought the main portion of land in 1854.

The elder Granger hailed from Vermont, he intended to settle in the prairielands of Iowa in 1854, but his wife became ill and he sent his 16 year old son Earl to Iowa with a team of Morgan horses and a wagon.....Horses and wagon were driven to New York and transported along the Erie canal to the Great Lakes. A boat took Earl, his team and wagon to Chicago. A railroad car carried them 30 miles out of Chicago and the rest of the way they were on their own.....

After the family was settled Earl, who was the father of Arthur and Alfred, went to Colorado to try his luck at gold mining in 1859. Earl made enough money to get started in business. He returned to Iowa, and later bought his father's farming interests north of the city.

.....After buying his father's farm, Earl kept busy operating a meat market along with farming. He also was a bank director of the Marion Savings Bank and the Farmers and Merchants State Bank. ....He went to Missouri once because there wasn't enough beef in this area to feed the railroaders. He drove 400 yead of cattle back to Marion.

His sons Arthur and Alfred, are now 76 and 69 respectively. Arthur, postmaster here for many years, has always helped Alfred on the farm....The Grangers still keep a team of horses on the farm....."We had 265 acres as a peak size while I was a boy," Arthur said. "However before my time the farm was larger than that." He is proud of the part his grandfather Samuel and father Earl played in the development of the city....But he is equally proud of the a younger generation of Grangers. His son John heads Granger Association at Palo Alto, Calif. Granger Associates currently is in midst of constructing a million-dollar building.

"HEADSTONES RECALL SETTLEMENT OF SOUTHERN FAMILIES in C. R." Cedar Rapids Gazette Oct. 12, 1953: (pictures) Weathered, Century-old gravestones in Oak Hill cemetery on Mt. Vernon Avenue Road S. E., bear testimony to the settlement of several South Carolina families in Cedar Rapids. About 8 stones, the inscriptions on some weathered beyond recognition, mark the graves of about a dozen members of the Bryan, McIntosh and Stoney families. Large stone pictured above notes the grave of Donald McKay McIntosh, 1828-1859. He was an attorney. Smaller stone presumably were for his children--Harley Bryan McIntosh, who lived only 22 days, and William Jackson McIntosh, who survived only 2½ years. "

"107 years of wind and rain has eroded the top portion of this memorial marker at the grave of a young member of the E. G. Stoney family. The Stoney's were one of several wealthy southern families who emigrated to young Cedar Rapids. Picture of Stone - "Stoney May 17, 1851, aged 8 mo. 29 d's."

Picture--"This scarred stone has stood since 1850 in Oak Hill cemetery bearing the name of the H. L. Bryan family, it apparently marks the graves of 2 Bryan children."

Article by Russ Wiley: "On the rise and fall of southern aristocracy in early Cedar Rapids: Judge George Green's influence led to the rise -- and a financial depression in 1857 apparently led to its decline. ....John S. Ely, Sr., gave a talk based on written but unpublished recollections of his late father John S. Ely....South Carolina families settling in Cedar Rapids in 1853. Brewer-Wick History of Linn County, contains a chapter on "Southern Influence."

It tells that the Legare, Bryan, McIntosh, Stoney and other Southern families came here in 1849....influenced the social side of this frontier settlement in a marked degree." Miss Margaret Swinton Legare, brought a fortune. She was accompanied by her nephew B. S. Bryan, Hugh L. Bryan and Michael Bryan.....

Another account of the Carolinians is found in "Pioneer Life in and Around Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by Rev. George R. Carroll, in 1895. ...."

Historical Houses: East Iowa, Time-worn Wadena Landmark: The 3 story Herriman house near Wadena, though still imposing from a distance, is fast falling into a state of disrepair. The house constructed by Major David Herriman about 1850 was a show place and center of community activities for many years. The Herriman's daughter Mary kept a large number of birds there, a large glassed-in porch on the second floor. There were also several living rooms and 15 bedrooms on the second floor.

Now only a few rooms on the first floor are occupied and those will be empty after January 1963, when Mr. and Mrs. Earl Little and their family move to a farm near Marquette.

The Major and his wife Elizabeth, joined with Horace and Elizabeth Countryman to lay out the town of Wadena and plat was recorded in 1857. He gave ground for a cemetery shortly before his death, and was one of first interments there. He built a schoolhouse of stone for a consideration of $800. August 26, 1962

Mr. Milks had gone to California during the gold rush of 1849; he never returned. The present Mrs. Cawley is deep rooted in Eastern Iowa History in her own right. Her great grandfather, Frederick Peick helped found the town of Littleport. Mrs. Charles E. Cawley lives in Kalamazoo, Mich."

"Sept. 9, 1962: DOLMAGE HOME--The house on the Dolmage farm south of Victor started life more than 100 years ago as a stage coach stop and post office, the first in the area. Lumber for the house which is still in good repair, was hauled by oxen from Iowa City before 1860. The town of Victor wasn't incorporated until 1862. Five generations of the Dolmage family have lived in the house, which was built by Mr. & Mrs. Samuel Drummond.

The Dining room in the Wayne Dolmage farm home south of Victor was one of the first postoffices in the Victor Area. About 1860 the house was used as a stage coach stop and post office. Two teams of four horses always stood hitched when it was time for the state to roll in.

Cemetery: A number of grave stones can be found in a small plot in the corn field not far from the Wayne Dolmage farm south of Victor. It is believed that the graves might represent the final resting places of a number of Normans who died during what was known as the Norman hand-cart expedition across the state in about 1860.

Some of the back ground of the house can be seen in the story told about the late Mrs. Frances Wighton of Guernsey. Grandma Wighton is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Samuel Drummond, pioneer settlers.....She still has the old post office holder and desk, which is made of genuine walnut and which was built by Wm. Negley, pioneer settler. The desk is now with Harold Wiedow of Guernsey, Poweshiek county recorder....."

Lundy of his ship. Later, according to legend, lookout tower was used on a stop on the underground railroad for slaves. Capt. Lundy is credited with being the founder of the town of Atalissa, which is named after an Indian princess. He gave a quantity of land for the town site; located in Muscatine county, between West Liberty and Wilton Junction." Cedar Rapids Gazette of August 5, 1962.

"The COE HOUSE at Clarence; nearly century old-- built by H. G. Coe, extensive land owner.....house was equipped with speaking tubes. Mr. & Mrs. Hugo Rix purchased the house several years ago from the John Pfettschers....." Cedar Rapids Gazette Sept. 30, 1962.

"CARTER HOUSE....Back in 1850 Major Ernest Victor Carter and his brother Henry built a brick house in Elkader to house their two families. The Carters moved to Clayton county from Ohio in 1847. It is divided in the middle by a series of double doors in rooms, with nine rooms on each side of the house; two front doors, Mr. & Mrs. Ernest Carter lived on one side, the Henry Carters with their six children on the other. The second owner was Joe Lamm; later W. C. Reimer, an Elkader attorney bought the house in 1938." Cedar Rapids Gazette Sept. 23, 1962.

"TIPTON HOUSE OF MEMORIES: built by Thomas Alexander Spear in late 1890s by architect Wm. Forsburg, of Des Moines. Jack Spear, present owner (1962) a grandson, son of Forrest Spear. " Cedar Rapids Gazette Sept. 16, 1962.

"TOLEDO'S HISTORICAL HOUSE: J. P. Walters' residence at Toledo, retains all the charm of a by-gone era, still occupied by a member of the family, Mrs. J. P. Walters. Erected 1873 by Mr. & Mrs. W. C. Walters, who came to Toledo in 1866 immediately after their marriage."

The following pages 21 through 82 were taken from six books of records, handwritten by Mrs. Ora Sandefur Busenbark, (Mrs. James) while she lived near Mt. Vernon, (Linn County), Iowa. The books were of the old cloth covered type, lined pages for writing; and contained newspaper clippings of marriages, deaths, pictures from newspapers; church records, letters and family data gathered from cousins. Some of the writing was difficult to decipher, and spellings were not always the same for the same names.

The record books are now 1962 in possession of Mr. & Mrs. Earl Busenbark of Cedar Rapids.

The following article from a paper written by Jas. Busenbark, not dated, but believed to be written about 1924, for the Busenbark family association; which has since then drifted apart.

"I am sure that we have all enjoyed this fine dinner and I want to take this opportunity of saying how nice it is to meet again to renew acquaintances and talk over old times, and also to relate a few facts about the Busenbark past generations.

In 1767, or 156 years ago, a baby boy came to a home in New Jersey, and he was named John Busenbark, - what town I do not know. He grew and married a Jane Nailor. He and his wife came West in a wagon drawn by one horse and settled in Butler County, Ohio. Eight children came to bless this home - 4 sons and as many daughters. He lived to be 70 years of age and was our great grandfather. His fourth child was a son, and he was named James - born in 1793 or 126 years ago; this James was our grandfather of this generation. He moved to Crawfordsville, Indiana and married Elizabeth Good, and this home was also blessed with 8 children - 6 sons and 2 daughters. I will give the names as follows:

William, who died in Kansas

John, (my father) died in Marion, 1896

Mary Angle, in Berlin, Wis.

Henry, lived a long time here, died in Wichita, Kans.

Emmons, died in New Market, Indiana.

Alfred, died in Mt. Vernon, Iowa

Sara Gott, in Marion, 1917

The youngest son, Sammy, died at the old homestead 2 miles from Crawfordsville, Ind., in 1917.

Thus, the passing of this family generation, and it can be said they were a good type of citizens, and their word was as good as gold, a quiet and peaceful people, and they were saving and very industrious, and all lived a comfortable and happy life.

Grandfather married a second time, and chose a sister to his first wife. Her name was Madlin. She died in 1902 at the age of 90 years.

Can say that I was proud of my Uncles and Aunts. I can remember of my father telling of walking to Davenport to take a train to visit his father in Indiana. How many of we people would like that walk today? Also of my father taking corn to mill in Dubuque to be ground for meal and Mother grinding corn on a coffee mill to tide over until Father's return. No modern appliances then - the bath tub being a creek - log houses - candles for lights - huge logs burning in fire places instead of furnaces, making our faces burn while our backs were freezing - oxen teams - home spun goods for dresses and hosiery made at home. Maids worked for 50 cents a week. My mother worked for 6 weeks and bought six split bottom chairs, and I still have some of those chairs. Folks were happy then.

Grandfather purchased 800 acres of land from the Government at $1.25 an acre, and gave William, Henry, Alfred, and John 200 acres a piece - 3 farms joining and one 1/2 mile away. Aunt Sara received her portion Northwest of Marion. They all visited often and in the 1840s and on, went in lumber wagons with chairs and boards for seats. A little different from now.

On August 12, 1906 Chas. and Lala Groll lived four miles east of Marion, held a reunion at their home, 70 met there and had a fine time, and from grandfathers family of 8 children, the Busenbarks began to be numerous and the Secretary will tell how many there are. Will add that our name is German, though our parents could not speak the language, only a few words."

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
CHICAGO, ILL. 60637

DATE: 10/15/68

TO: Mr. J. H. Drenth, Jr., Director, National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D.C. 20343

FROM: Dr. R. M. Waymouth, Department of Chemistry, University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois 60637

SUBJECT: A preliminary report on the results of the study of the kinetics of the reaction of the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnH}$ , with the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnI}$ , in the presence of the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnBr}$ .

The following is a preliminary report on the results of the study of the kinetics of the reaction of the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnH}$ , with the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnI}$ , in the presence of the organotin compound,  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnBr}$ .

The reaction of  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnH}$  with  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnI}$  in the presence of  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnBr}$  was studied by measuring the rate of disappearance of  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnH}$  as a function of the concentration of  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnI}$  and  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnBr}$ . The results show that the reaction is first order in  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnH}$  and first order in  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnI}$ , and is independent of the concentration of  $(\text{C}_6\text{H}_5)_3\text{SnBr}$ . The rate constant for the reaction is  $1.5 \times 10^{-4} \text{ s}^{-1}$  at  $25^\circ\text{C}$ .

HISTORICAL ITEM

"WHITTIER: Settlers could see their guests coming" accross the treeless prairie so far away, that by the time the plodding oxen had reached their destination, the hostess could have a chicken killed, dressed and in the pot cooking; statement credited to Mrs. Jacob Shadle, as her home was the only one in the area, and commanded a view of the eastern, southern, and western horizonz. Newly married, the Shadles established their home 1 1/2 miles north west of Whittier.

According to historical data, the first to settle on land near the present confines of the village was the William P. Bedell family, from New York state; who located first in the Hopewell district south of Viola in 1854.....Other early settlers in this neighborhood were the Eli Hodgins, Stephen Jackson, and Nathan Hall families.

With the arrival of this group, the first business was established in Whittier when Nathan Hall in 1893 opened a general merchandise, occupying a part of the family residence. The Hall house was the first building in village ground. Obed Pierpoint, a brother-in-law became a partner in 1895; which they operated until 1910, when it was purchased by Edmund Smith. Later owners were Arthur Rockwell, in 1913; Barclay Heald and Earl Hodgins in 1915; Ivan Hoge 1939; Alfred Watson from 1942 to 1952 when it closed.

.....Dr. Alice I. Ross opened a doctor's office in 1897... School was doncuted in the meeting house in 1875; early teachers were Mrs. Morris Stanley, Elizabeth Wood and Lindley Shaw.

.....There were four other like Quaker areas in Iowa, West Branch, What Cheer, Earlham and Paullina.

The community at first as known as "Quaker Corners", however in 1893 when a post office was obtained, the name was changed to Whittier in honor of the Quaker poet John Greenleaf Whittier.

.....The Friends conducted their first religious service in the home of William P. Bedell, the community's first settler. In 1864 the Society erected the first meeting house. The present building was erected in 1893.

Whittier, an unincorporated community of 150 inhabitants, is located 15 miles northeast of Cedar Rapids, directly east of the Linn County Home, and four miles west of Viola. The village will be the scene in 1961 of the annual meeting of the Iowa unit of the Society of Friends.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

From the first settlement of the city in 1630 to the present time, the city has grown from a small fishing village to a great metropolis. The early years of the city were marked by the struggles of the settlers to establish a permanent home in a new and hostile land.

The city was founded by a group of Puritan settlers who came to the Massachusetts Bay in 1630. They were led by John Winthrop, who gave the city its name, Boston, in honor of the town in England from which they came.

A personal letter: "Kennebunk, July 7th, 63 (1863)

My dear Brother: Our Father is gone, he died the fourth of July, he was sick a fortnight with influenza; he passed away without much suffering and died almost like a child going to sleep, although he had so large a family, but one of his children followed him to the grave.

Mother will be very lonely now and we shall all miss him very much he has not been at all insane for the last two years, but had lost his faculty's some what. The rest of our friends are well, you will please let Ichabod and Herald know of Father's death. If I had had time before the mail goes out, to write to them, I should have done so but as it is you will please let them know. Do you hear from Herald. I wrote him as you directed, but have not heard from him and I think he never got my letter, we are rejoicing this morning over the success of our Army, especially the surrender of Vicksburg. It seems almost impossible for the south to hold out much longer. We are having quite a severe drought, which has injured the hay crop very much. Charles has not commenced haying yet. He will probably get out his mowing machine this afternoon to commence to morrow morning.

We are having pretty warm weather now, and have had a little rain, but not enough to do much good. But I must close hoping you will come and see us very soon; our regards to yours and Ichabods families.

In hast Lydia Holland.
